3 Notably, Kearney would still be allowed to communicate his beliefs on any and all 4 traditional media that he has not weaponized.

5 Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 65(a)(2), and Federal Rule of Civil 6 Procedure 56, I move for this court to grant partial summary judgment where appropriate, 7 and for the court to advance the trial on the merits for remaining issues and consolidate 8 the trial with the hearing to issue a permanent injunction.

9 I request that the court reschedule the hearing for as soon as legally possible, which 10 may be 10 or 21 days after Defendants are served.

11 III. STATEMENT OF ISSUES TO BE DECIDED

12 1. Whether I am likely to succeed on the merits

- 13 a. Whether conspiring to frame an opposing party for threatening to rape 14 and murder children is a 42 U.S.C. § 1985(2)(i) conspiracy.
- 15 b. Whether sending heinous threats to a witness, knowing that it would 16 trigger a parties adjustment disorder is a § 1985 conspiracy.
- 17 c. Whether Meta's past conversations with Kearney about paying for a 18 guarantee that his profiles wouldn't be unpublished, and Meta's 19 decision to allow Kearney special privileges to break their rules, and 20 Meta's opposition to an investigation into Kearney's obstruction, and 21 the timing of Meta's decision to delete my Facebook account infer 22 agreement or complicity in a conspiracy with Kearney.
- 23 d. Whether Section 230 immunizes Meta from § 1986 liability of having 24 legal knowledge that a codefendant was engaged in a § 1985 25 conspiracy, and having the power to prevent or aid in preventing the 26 commission of the same, and neglecting and refusing to do so.
- 27
28

1 e. Whether the plethora of state-action is more than enough to find that 2 the Defendants were acting under the color of the law for § 1983

3 f. Whether weaponized public shaming by state backed actors is a 4 violation of due process.

5 2. Whether consistent harassment before court hearings, and numerous heinous 6 threats to witnesses, and a promise to not stop harassing until my witness is 7 destitute justifies a finding that I am likely to suffer irreparable harm in the 8 absence of relief preventing further harassment.

9 3. Whether balance of equities tip in my favor.

10 4. Whether the injunction and consolidation is in the public interest.

11 5. Whether advancing summary judgment or trial is appropriate to stop past 12 conspiracies from causing due process issues in this court.

13
14 IV. MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

15 Advancing summary judgment or trial is necessary to repair the status quo.

16 “The [amended] rule allows a party to move for summary judgment at any time, even 17 as early as the commencement of the action.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 56 Committee notes on 18 rules-2009 amendment. (“If a motion for summary judgment is filed before a responsive 19 pleading is due from a party affected by the motion, the time for responding to the motion 20 is 21 days after the responsive pleading is due.”)

21 As a result of the Defendants’ conspiracies, I am in extreme poverty which critically 22 hinders my ability to fight the case effectively, and puts me in too desperate of a state to 23 fairly negotiate settlement. Unchecked instances of witness intimidation prevents me 24 from having a fair opportunity to retain legal representation, or depose and talk to 25 witnesses. Once it is established that Aidan Kearney is liable for Counts I & II, Kearney 26 will no longer have any leverage or incentive to obstruct the court case, which I believe 27 will be more effective at providing witnesses’ safety than any injunction could.

1 This court must provide due process by repairing the status quo. The relief requested 2 is the path of least resistance to expediently and justly heal those wounds and prevent the 3 fruits of civil rights conspiracies from causing due process issues in this court. It would 4 also be a violation of my due process rights to approve of obvious threats that are causing 5 violations to my constitutional rights without informing me of meritorious reasoning, as 6 Massachusetts courts have consistently done.

7 Additionally, the claims that I seek summary judgment/consolidation on do not 8 require discovery, and Facebook's only defense worthy of debate is Section 230, which 9 is a matter of law that will probably be appealed to the Supreme Court regardless of which 10 party prevails.

11 Serving Kearney with the injunction at the same time as the complaint will conserve 12 judicial resources because Kearney will default in this action, just as he has done in every 13 action addressing the Count 1 and Count 2 conspiracies, because Kearney is undeniably 14 guilty. Affidavit at 2. See also Rian Waters Vs. Aidan Kearney, SJC-13373¹ (consolidated 15 appeal of the State's unintelligible refusal to issue a criminal complaint over obvious 16 undenied crimes.) "The Court generally may take judicial notice of court filings and other 17 matters of public record." Rubalcava v. City of San Jose, 20-cv-04191-BLF, (N.D. Cal.
18 Jul. 15, 2021) citing Reyn's Pasta Bella, LLC v. Visa USA, Inc., 442 F.3d 741, 746 n.6
19 (9th Cir. 2006)

20 TRO/ Preliminary Injunction Standard

21 "[T]he legal standards applicable to TROs and preliminary injunctions are 22 substantially identical." State v. Trump, 847 F.3d 1151, 1159 n.3 (9th Cir. 2017)

23 "A plaintiff seeking a preliminary injunction must establish that he is likely to succeed 24 on the merits, that he is likely to suffer irreparable harm in the absence of preliminary 25

26
27 ¹ The docket with my Appellant brief can be found on the state's website. <https://www.ma-appellatecourts.org/docket/SJC-13373>

1 relief, that the balance of equities tips in his favor, and that an injunction is in the public
2 interest.” American Trucking v. City of Los Angeles, 559 F.3d 1046, 1052 (9th Cir. 2009)

3 Although, TROs, “should be restricted to serving their underlying purpose of 4 preserving the status quo and preventing irreparable harm just so long as is necessary to 5 hold a hearing, and no longer.” Reno Air Racing Ass'n., Inc. v. McCord, 452 F.3d 1126, 6 1131 (9th Cir. 2006) (“In cases where notice could have been given to the adverse party, 7 courts have recognized a very narrow band of cases in which ex parte orders are proper 8 because notice to the defendant would render fruitless the further prosecution of the 9 action.”)

10 Absent relief I will suffer irreparable harm

11 There is good cause to believe that immediate and irreparable damage to the Court's 12 ability to grant effective final relief will take place without relief. Under the current 13 circumstances abstention would run afoul with the due process clause of the 14th 14 Amendment, as Kearney has a pattern of stressing my adjustment disorder before court 15 hearings, Affidavit at 5 (FAVC ¶ 59-63 ¶ 36 ¶ 50,) and Kearney has made it abundantly 16 clear that I cannot safely have witnesses absent relief, and that he will keep attacking my 17 witnesses until a court intervenes. “I will not stop until you beg for mercy, and then I’m 18 going to do it twice as much, you’re gonna feel the way I felt when I was in my garage 19 when I wanted to kill myself.” FAVC ¶ 63 see also (FAVC ¶ 31, ¶ 58, ¶ 59, ¶ 60 ¶ 67, ¶ 20 68) Notably Kearney has been notified.

21 The last time Kearney and I held a deposition Kearney harassed me before, after, and 22 during the deposition. (Affidavit at 3) Kearney’s outbursts while I was asking questions 23 caused the deponent to cry and ask to stop the deposition. (Affidavit at 4) If I can’t have 24 a fair deposition without harassment, then no one should get an opportunity to depose 25 witnesses before trial.

26 Without relief preoccupation with Kearney’s harassment would/will prevent me from 27 being able to effectively prosecute Meta’s claims.

1 “The right to meaningful opportunity to be heard within limits of practicality must be 2 protected against denial by particular laws that operate to jeopardize it for particular 3 individuals.” Boddie v. Connecticut, 401 U.S. 371, 91 S. Ct. 780, 28 L. Ed. 2d 113 (1971) 4 (“Due process requires, at minimum, that absent countervailing state interest of 5 overriding significance, persons forced to settle their claims of right and duty through the 6 judicial process must be given meaningful opportunity to be heard.” i.d.) “[P]ast wrongs 7 are evidence bearing on whether there is real and immediate threat of repeated injury.” 8 Blum v. Yaretsky, 457 U.S. 991, 1001 (1982) citation omitted “[A]n eventual trial that 9 reflects witness intimidation or jury tampering is as bad as not trial at all.” United States
10 v. Acevedo-Ramos, 755 F.2d 203, 206 (1st Cir. 1985)

11 “[T]he constitutional violation alone, coupled with the damages incurred, can suffice 12 to show irreparable harm.” American Trucking v. City of Los Angeles, 559 F.3d 1046, 13 1058 (9th Cir. 2009) (“constitutional violations cannot be adequately remedied through 14 damages”) i.d., at 1059

15 Summary Judgment Legal standard

16 “Summary judgment is proper when the pleadings, the discovery and disclosure 17 materials on file, and any affidavits show that there is no genuine issue as to any material 18 fact and that the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law.” In re Barboza, 545 19 F.3d 702, 707 (9th Cir. 2008) (“An issue is genuine only if there is a sufficient evidentiary 20 basis on which a reasonable fact finder could find for the nonmoving party, and a dispute 21 is material only if it could affect the outcome of the suit under the governing law... The 22 nonmoving party may not rely on denials in the pleadings but must produce specific 23 evidence, through affidavits or admissible discovery material, to show that the dispute 24 exists.”) I.d.,

25 The inquiry is whether the evidence presents a sufficient disagreement to require 26 submission to a jury or whether it is so one-sided that one party must prevail as a matter 27 of law.” Shaw v. Lindheim, 908 F.2d 531, 536-37 (9th Cir. 1990)

Likelihood of success on the merits

If Kearney had any exculpatory evidence I would know about it, he is undeniably guilty. (Affidavit at 2) (FAVC ¶ 86, ¶ 89-91, ¶ 95, ¶ 97) “A party may set out 2 or more statements of a claim... If a party makes alternative statements, the pleading is sufficient if any one of them is sufficient.” FED. R. CIV. P. 8(d)(2)-(3) The Supreme Court confirmed after Twombly that “a pro se complaint, however inartfully pleaded, [still] must be held to less stringent standards than formal pleadings drafted by lawyers” Erickson v. Pardus, 551 U.S. 89, 94 (2007)

42 U.S.C. § 1986

“Every person who, having knowledge that any of the wrongs conspired to be done, and mentioned in section 1985 of this title, are about to be committed, and having power to prevent or aid in preventing the commission of the same, neglects or refuses so to do, if such wrongful act be committed, shall be liable to the party injured, or his legal representatives, for all damages caused by such wrongful act, which such person by reasonable diligence could have prevented...” 42 U.S.C. § 1986

Meta’s Knowledge

Meta Platforms INC. (here on “Facebook” or “FB”) was a codefendant with Kearney in Waters v. Facebook, Inc., et al. (21-civil-01582) (First Amended Verified Complaint ¶ 20) (Here on “FAVC”) “[A] corporation is a ‘person’” Lacey v. Maricopa Cnty., 693 F.3d 896, 919 n.9 (9th Cir. 2012) FB was made legally aware of their codefendants’ toxic background of harming opposing lawyers, plaintiffs, and witnesses, (FAVC ¶ 30-33) and that Kearney was flagrantly breaking several rules that were made for safety. FAVC ¶ 29 FB also knew the details of the November 19th, 2021, conspiracy, (FAVC ¶ 21) not through their role as a publisher but through their attorneys. “Each party to litigation is deemed bound by the acts of his attorney-agent and is considered to have notice of all facts, notice of which can be charged upon the attorney.” Link v. Wabash R. Co., 370 U.S. 626, 627 (1962)

1 FB was also legally aware that Kearney's harassment caused me to have an adjustment 2 disorder, (FAVC ¶ 36, 121) which caused sleep disturbances and preoccupation.

3 Meta's power to prevent

4 FB could have prevented Kearney's conspiracies by not opposing investigations 5 (FAVC ¶ 26; FAVC ¶ 149) and FB could have stopped giving Kearney special privileges 6 to post more toxic stuff than normal people without consequences. (FAVC ¶ 16-19; 7 FAVC ¶ 146) Facebook could have prevented significant harm to me and my witnesses 8 if they confirmed Cristina Yakimowsky's evidence was genuine. (FAVC ¶ 166)

9 1985(2) Legal Standard

10 "Section 1985(2), in relevant part, proscribes conspiracies 'to deter, by force, 11 intimidation, or threat, any party or witness in any court of the United States from 12 attending such court, or from testifying to any matter pending therein, freely, fully, and 13 truthfully, or to injure such party or witness in his person or property on account of his 14 having so attended or testified.' If one or more persons engaged in such a conspiracy 'do, 15 or cause to be done, any act in furtherance of the object of such conspiracy, ... the party 16 so injured ... may have an action for the recovery of damages occasioned by such an injury 17 ... against any one or more of the conspirators.'" Head v. Wilkie, 936 F.3d 1007, 1010
18 (9th Cir. 2019) quoting 42 U.S.C. § 1985(2) and 42 U.S.C. § 1985(3) emphasis added

19 Meta Kearney Conspiracy

20 A conspiratorial agreement between Kearney and Facebook can be inferred because 21 Kearney discussed paying for a guarantee that his accounts would not be suspended with 22 two Facebook employees. (FAVC ¶ 16; FAVC ¶ 146) Facebook was legally aware that 23 Kearney was breaking several of their rules that they said were meant for safety, FAVC 24 ¶ 29, and with that knowledge Facebook emboldened Kearney by allowing him to 25 continue to post after his accounts were suspended. FAVC ¶ 18-19 Therefore, Facebook 26 acted with deliberate indifference by "recognize[ing] an unreasonable risk and actually 27
28

1 intended to expose [the Plaintiff] to such risks without regard to the consequences.”
2 Hernandez v. City of San Jose, 897 F.3d 1125, 1135 (9th Cir. 2018)

3 With consideration to the surrounding circumstances and timing, Facebook’s 4 decisions to delete my Facebook account shortly after the November 19th conspiracy, 5 (FAVC ¶ 22) and decision to oppose a two-minute investigation into Kearney’s heinous 6 crimes, (FAVC ¶ 26) justifies an inference of agreement and complicity. FAVC ¶ 147-49

7 “A defendant's knowledge of and participation in a conspiracy may be inferred from 8 circumstantial evidence and from evidence of the defendant's actions.” Gilbrook v. City 9 of Westminster, 177 F.3d 839, 856-57 (9th Cir. 1999) “[W]hen the entire sequence of 10 events in the complaint is considered in context, what might otherwise appear to have 11 been coincidental parallel conduct on its own becomes ‘suggestive of illegal conduct’ and 12 is thus sufficient to survive a motion to dismiss.” Park v. Thompson, 851 F.3d 910, 929 13 n.22 (9th Cir. 2017) “[A]n act done for a legitimate purpose in furtherance of a conspiracy 14 may, together with other evidence, be evidence of a conspiratorial purpose.” United 15 Steelworkers of Am. v. Phelps Dodge, 865 F.2d 1539, 1547 (9th Cir. 1989) “Even 16 evidence of a slight connection to the conspiracy is sufficient to convict a defendant of 17 knowingly participating in an established conspiracy.” U.S. v. Ortega, 203 F.3d 675, 684 18 (9th Cir. 2000) “To be liable, each participant in the conspiracy need not know the exact 19 details of the plan, but each participant must at least share the common objective of the 20 conspiracy.” Mendocino Env't Ctr. v. Mendocino Cty., 192 F.3d 1283, 1302 (9th Cir.
21 1999) Facebook obviously wanted to win the lawsuit even at the cost of my health and 22 due process rights.

23 Notably Facebook would be an accessory after the fact if they had reason to believe 24 that I sent the threats but still deleted my account. 18 U.S. Code § 3; Penal Code § 32
25 FAVC ¶ 138

26 Meta integral participant

1 Facebook knew that Kearney would send heinous threats to my witnesses if they 2 didn't confirm her evidence, (FAVC ¶ 31-33, FAVC ¶ 58, FAVC ¶ 67, FAVC ¶ 118-9) 3 and they knew that the threats would stress my adjustment disorder causing sleep 4 disturbances and preoccupation. (FAVC ¶ 121 it was alleged in the complaint too) When 5 a Defendant's "individual actions do not themselves rise to the level of a constitutional 6 violation [they] may be held liable under section 1983 only if the official is an integral 7 participant in the unlawful act." Peck v. Montoya, 51 F.4th 877, 889 (9th Cir. 2022)
8 quotations omitted. The Ninth Circuit permits liability under the integral-participant 9 doctrine when "(1) the defendant knows about and acquiesces in the constitutionally 10 defective conduct as part of a common plan with those whose conduct constitutes the 11 violation or (2) the defendant sets in motion a series of acts by others which the defendant 12 knows or reasonably should know would cause others to inflict the constitutional injury." 13 Peck v. Montoya, 51 F.4th 877, 889 (9th Cir. 2022)

14 Facebook changed their product design making it impossible to provide details and 15 context to reports of violations to their Terms of Service, which helped cause 16 constitutional violations by making it impossible to address the issues before the harm 17 takes place. FAVC ¶ 181 "[S]ection 1983 creates a species of tort liability that 18 incorporates common-law tort principles. Courts therefore turn to the causation factors 19 developed in the common law of torts to supply the necessary causation factor in the civil 20 rights field. At common law, a defendant is liable for the acts of another if the defendant 21 does a tortious act in concert with the other or pursuant to a common design with him, or, 22 alternatively, knows that the other's conduct constitutes a breach of duty and gives 23 substantial assistance or encouragement to the other so to conduct himself." Peck v.
24 Montoya, 51 F.4th 877, 891 (9th Cir. 2022) citations omitted.

25 Facebook knew that Kearney's and WDM's public shaming and conspiracies were 26 dependent on Facebook for reach and effect at all times relevant to the complaint. FAVC 27 ¶ 23, ¶ 24, ¶ 27, ¶ 147

1 Additionally, Facebook had over 7 months to admit Yakimowsky's evidence was 2 genuine before the June 18th threats. FAVC ¶ 150 "We apply the deliberate-indifference 3 standard when officials had ample time to correct their obviously wrongful conduct" Peck 4 v. Montoya, 51 F.4th 877, 893 (9th Cir. 2022)

5 Kearney's Conspiracies

6 Count 1

7 It can be inferred that Kearney sent the November 19th, 2021, threats, because 8 Kearney privately sent his conspirators screenshots of the fake threats and asked his 9 coconspirators to privately send him screenshots of the fake threats so he could use them 10 and act like he found the threats innocently. FAVC ¶ 46 Kearney was worried the plan 11 failed after the profile was taken down, but coconspirator Cris Gagne had already gotten 12 screenshots. FAVC ¶ 47 According to Kearney the fake profile was up for about 15 13 minutes before someone reported it, and coconspirator Laura hakes correctly presumed it 14 was me. FAVC ¶ 48 These statements are plainly admissible under the hearsay exception 15 801(d)(2)(E).

16 Kearney tried to keep his conspirators abreast by telling them that there was nothing 17 to worry about because "I'm the one who did it." FAVC ¶ 55 "[S]tatements made to keep 18 coconspirators abreast of an ongoing conspiracy's activities satisfy the 'in furtherance of' 19 requirement" of 801(d)(2)(E). U.S. v. Williams, 989 F.2d 1061, 1068 (9th Cir. 1993)

20 It can be inferred that Kearney sent the November 19th, 2021, threats, because the 21 conspiracy happened the same day that he defaulted in the First Circuit. FAVC ¶ 35 "The 22 timing of the defendant's actions makes it more, rather than less, likely that he was trying 23 to intimidate the witness." Commonwealth v. Robinson, 444 Mass. 102, 109, 825 N.E.2d 24 1021 (2005).

25 Even assuming arguendo that Kearney has been hiding exculpatory specific facts 26 proving that he did not send the threats, Aidan Kearney definitely conspired by presenting 27 evidence that he knew to be fabricated and giving perjured oral testimony in attempt to 28

1 mislead the judge into thinking that I threatened to rape and murder his children. FAVC 2 ¶ 50-53

3 There is a long-documented pattern of Kearney sending threats and intimidating 4 witnesses, (FAVC passim) and Kearney says attacking children is the best way to get pro
5 se litigants to drop lawsuits. FAVC ¶ 31

6 Count 2

7 Aidan Kearney knew that I was going to try to get the Supreme Court to appeal the 8 First Circuit's refusal to investigate the Count I conspiracy in my Petition for Writ of 9 Certiorari, FAVC ¶ 116, ¶ 120-121, which Cristina Yakimowsky was a primary witness 10 for. Cristina Yakimowsky had shared screenshots from her perspective because she did 11 not like Kearney hurting people. FAVC ¶ 57 But Kearney's threats successfully scared 12 her into not being willing to testify without a subpoena, and Kearney knew when he sent 13 the threats that it would prevent me from presenting an effective case in the Supreme 14 Court. FAVC ¶ 121, ¶ 140

15 Even assuming arguendo that Meta is cleared from liability as a conspirator, Kearney 16 at a minimum conspired with WDM by conspiratorial design, in that he intentionally 17 weaponized WDM, so that his followers would routinely harass whoever he targeted, and 18 that Kearney did the conspiracy using WDM's assets knowing that as a defunct company 19 it would be difficult for a plaintiff to hold him liable and reach the assets. FAVC ¶ 65, ¶ 20 66, ¶ 68 ¶ 156-57

21 § 1985(2)/ § 1986 damages

22 These conspiracies stressed my adjustment disorder causing extreme preoccupation 23 and prevented me from fairly addressing the merits for First Circuit case, 21-1582 and 24 Supreme Court case U.S. 22-5133. The conspiracies violated my due process rights and 25 caused mental anguish and community intimidation by confirming that it was too 26 dangerous to have witnesses without protection. FAVC ¶ 151-152, ¶ 158-160, ¶ 167-168 27 The Defendants' acts critically stressed my adjustment disorder making me unable to 28

1 work, eat, or sleep in a reasonable fashion, which by extension I believe these actions 2 shortened my life by at least ten years. “[T]he Supreme Court later held in Haddle that 3 interference with a plaintiff’s employment—which has no relationship to or impact on the 4 underlying litigation for which he was subpoenaed to testify—is a cognizable injury under 5 section 1985(2)” Head v. Wilkie, 936 F.3d 1007, 1012 (9th Cir. 2019) (FAVC 113-114)

6 Section 230 is useless for these claims

7 “[R]egardless of the type of claim brought, [the court] focus on whether the duty the 8 plaintiff alleges stems from the defendant’s status or conduct as a publisher or speaker.”
9 Lemmon v. Snap, Inc., 995 F.3d 1085, 1091 (9th Cir. 2021) emphasis added. In this case 10 Facebook was a codefendant, so “the website provider was alleged to have known 11 independently of the ongoing scheme beforehand, the CDA d[oes] not bar [the] action” 12 Homeaway.Com, Inc. v. City of Santa Monica, 918 F.3d 676, 682 (9th Cir. 2019) 13 “Though the defendant did, in its business, act as a publisher of third-party content, the 14 underlying legal duty at issue did not seek to hold the defendant liable as a ‘publisher or 15 speaker’ of third-party content. We therefore declined to extend CDA immunity to the 16 defendant for the plaintiff’s failure-to-warn claim.” Homeaway.Com, Inc. v. City of Santa 17 Monica, 918 F.3d 676, 682 (9th Cir. 2019)

18 Meta Platforms INC., is empowered with federal law by Section 230, as they would 19 not have thought they could violate constitutional rights at all, let alone on this scale 20 without the federal provided power. (FAVC ¶ 34, 190) The Constitution does not have 21 exceptions that says the government can only violate constitutional rights if billion-dollar 22 companies create an undetectable back-door. “Section 1983 creates a species of tort 23 liability that, on its face, admits of no immunities.” Wyatt v. Cole, 504 U.S. 158, 163 24 (1992) citation omitted. “The constitution is superior to any ordinary act of the legislature, 25 the constitution, and not such ordinary act, must govern the case to which they both 26 apply.” Marbury v. Madison, 5 U.S. 137, 178 (1803) “The Supremacy Clause provides 27 that: ‘This Constitution, and the Laws of the United States which shall be made in 28

1 Pursuance thereof... shall be the supreme Law of the Land...” American Trucking v.

12 insight reveals discord between the Constitution's central protections and a received legal 13 stricture, a claim to liberty must be addressed.” Obergefell v. Hodges, 576 U.S. 644, 664, 14 135 S. Ct. 2584, 2598, 192 L. Ed. 2d 609 (2015)

15 “[N]o one has constitutional protection in engaging in organized crime or in corrupt 16 practices in government.” Sheridan v. Gardner, 347 Mass. 8, 17 (1964) “No conduct has 17 such an absolute privilege as to justify all possible schemes of which it may be a part. The 18 most innocent and constitutionally protected of acts or omissions may be made a step in 19 a criminal plot, and if it is a step in a plot neither its innocence nor the Constitution is 20 sufficient to prevent the punishment of the plot by law.” Aikens v. Wisconsin, 195 U.S.
21 194, 205-206 (1904)

22 23 1983 Constitutional Violation Due Process

24 “Every person has a fundamental right to liberty in the sense that the Government may 25 not punish him unless and until it proves his guilt beyond a reasonable doubt at a criminal 26 trial conducted in accordance with the relevant constitutional guarantees.” Chapman v.
27 United States, 500 U.S. 453, 465, 111 S. Ct. 1919, 1927, 114 L. Ed. 2d 524 (1991)

1 “Certainly where the State attaches a badge of infamy to the citizen, due process comes 2 into play.” Wisconsin v. Constantineau, 400 U.S. 433, 437 (1971) (quotations omitted.) 3 The "right to be heard before being condemned to suffer grievous loss of any kind, even 4 though it may not involve the stigma and hardships of a criminal conviction, is a principle 5 basic to our society." Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. 319, 333 (1976)

6 “It may be that it is the obnoxious thing in its mildest and least repulsive form; but 7 illegitimate and unconstitutional practices get their first footing in that way, namely, by 8 silent approaches and slight deviations from legal modes of procedure. This can only be 9 obviated by adhering to the rule that constitutional provisions for the security of person 10 and property should be liberally construed. A close and literal construction deprives them 11 of half their efficacy, and leads to gradual depreciation of the right, as if it consisted more 12 in sound than in substance. It is the duty of courts to be watchful for the constitutional 13 rights of the citizen, and against any stealthy encroachments thereon.” Coolidge v. New 14 Hampshire, 403 U.S. 443, 454, 91 S. Ct. 2022, 2031, 29 L. Ed. 2d 564 (1971), holding 15 modified by Horton v. California, 496 U.S. 128, 110 S. Ct. 2301, 110 L. Ed. 2d 112 (1990)

16 Kearney’s fabricated threats will be recirculated through the internet forever, and 17 because of this conspiracy there will now always be people that assume that I threatened 18 to rape and murder children, “in this case involving direct evidence of fabrication, 19 Plaintiff was not required to show that [the Defendants] actually or constructively knew 20 that he was innocent.” Spencer v. Peters, 857 F.3d 789, 800 (9th Cir. 2017) Even in the 21 unlikely scenario that Kearney did not fabricate the threats, he made false statements in 22 court to make me look guilty. “[D]eliberately falsifying evidence in a child abuse 23 investigation and including false evidentiary statements in a supporting declaration 24 violates constitutional rights where it results in the deprivation of liberty or property 25 interests, be it in a criminal or civil proceeding.” Costanich v. Dept. of Social Ser, 627 26 F.3d 1101, 1115 (9th Cir. 2010)

1 The Supreme court decided that a sex offender registry was not punitive because they 2 were not doing exactly what the Defendants are doing in this case. Smith v. Doe, 538 3 U.S. 84, 99 (2003) (“The State's Web site does not provide the public with means to 4 shame the offender by, say, posting comments underneath his record. An individual 5 seeking the information must take the initial step of going to the Department of Public 6 Safety's Web site”) As the court noted the registration only comes after a conviction, 7 while in this case, “the State has no such punitive interest. As [I] was not convicted, [I] 8 may not be punished.” Foucha v. Louisiana, 504 U.S. 71, 80 (1992) [P]rior to an 9 adjudication of guilt in accordance with due process of law.” Bell v. Wolfish, 441 U.S.
10 520, 535 (1979)

11 “The target[s] of public shaming lose their jobs, and those not yet targeted adjust their 12 own public and perhaps even private speech to avoid being the next national pariah. In a 13 regime where both financial and social possibilities hinge on employment, to be rendered 14 not just temporarily unemployed but unemployable is a fate not substantially better than 15 imprisonment. Social media can punish those deemed offensive more severely than any 16 formal sentence for a speech violation ever could in the United States. The best strategy 17 for most reasonably risk-adverse people will hit upon to deal with this ominous threat to 18 their livelihoods is to shut up.” Koganzon, Rita. “The Politics of Digital Shaming.” The 20 “In determining whether a provision of the Constitution applies to a new subject 21 matter, it is of little significance that it is one with which the framers were not familiar.

22 For in setting up an enduring framework of government they undertook to carry out for 23 the indefinite future and in all the vicissitudes of the changing affairs of men, those 24 fundamental purposes which the instrument itself discloses.” Bell v. Maryland, 378 U.S.
25 226, 315 (1964)

26 If necessary, I am a class of one in that numerous Massachusetts courts and police 27 unintelligibly enabled and encouraged threats and crimes against me by approving of 28

1 heinous threats without any rational basis. FAVC ¶ 171 “Our cases have recognized 2 successful equal protection claims brought by a class of one, where the plaintiff alleges 3 that [they have] been intentionally treated differently from others similarly situated and 4 that there is no rational basis for the difference in treatment. In so doing, we have 5 explained that the purpose of the equal protection clause of the Fourteenth Amendment 6 is to secure every person within the State's jurisdiction against intentional and arbitrary 7 discrimination, whether occasioned by express terms of a statute or by its improper 8 execution through duly constituted agents.” Village of Willowbrook v. Olech, 528 U.S.

11 12 1983 State Action

13 Facebook will argue that courts have repeatedly held that Facebook is not a state 14 actor. This argument fails, “Private parties involved in such a conspiracy may be liable 15 under section 1983.” United Steelworkers of Am. v. Phelps Dodge, 865 F.2d 1539, 1540 16 (9th Cir. 1989) see also Adickes v. Kress Co., 398 U.S. 144, 152 (1970) “The 17 determination of whether a nominally private person or corporation acts under color of 18 state law is a matter of normative judgment, and the criteria lack rigid simplicity. Courts 19 must engage in sifting facts and weighing circumstances to answer what is necessarily a 20 fact-bound inquiry. Indeed, no one fact can function as a necessary condition across the 21 board ... nor is any set of circumstances absolutely sufficient.” Pasadena Republican Club 22 v. W. Justice Ctr., 985 F.3d 1161, 1167 (9th Cir. 2021) citations omitted “[L]ower courts 23 [are directed] to take a case-by-case approach...” Burton v. Wilmington Parking Auth., 24 365 U.S. 715, 722 (1961) emphasis added; see also Howerton v. Gabica, 708 F.2d 380, 25 383 (9th Cir. 1983) “It is not enough to examine seriatim each of the factors upon which 26 a claimant relies and to dismiss each individually as being insufficient to support a finding 27 of state action. It is the aggregate that is controlling.” Jackson v. Metropolitan Edison 28

1 Co., 419 U.S. 345, 95 S.Ct. 449, 42 L.Ed.2d 477 (1974) Emphasis added. “The 2 satisfaction of any one test is sufficient to find state action, but at bottom, the inquiry is 3 always whether the defendant has exercised power possessed by virtue of state law and 4 made possible only because the wrongdoer is clothed with the authority of state law.”
5 Pasadena Republican Club v. W. Justice Ctr., 985 F.3d 1161, 1167 (9th Cir. 2021)

6 Supplementary state-action

7 I also believe this case would satisfy the old supplementary state-action test, as “the 8 conspiracy [is] so massive and effective that it supplants those authorities and thus 9 satisfies the state action requirement.” Griffin v. Breckenridge, 403 U.S. 88, 98 (1971) 10 “The more thorough method of superseding State authority should only be resorted to 11 when the deprivation of rights and the condition of outlawry was so general as to prevail 12 in all quarters in defiance of or by permission of the local government.” Cong. Globe, 13 42d Cong., 1st Sess., 459 (1871) Mr. Coburn. I withheld this theory from the complaint 14 as it has not been used in years and I already argued more than enough state action, 15 although if necessary, I’ll move to amend.

16 Joint Action

17 Kearney's not making up numbers out of thin air when he says that 90% of court clerks 18 support him. FAVC ¶ 80 Kearney gets emails all the time from court officials, particularly 19 in Massachusetts, who sent him stories that technically violate the individuals due process 20 rights. FAVC ¶ 72 I believe and allege that a big part of the reason why I have been 21 getting abused by judges in Massachusetts, is because Kearney has gained leverage on a 22 systemic scale that makes the justice system too complicit to face the elephant that is 23 trampling the room.

24 Aidan Kearney’s public shaming operation is dependent on police and other state 25 actors sending him information that is not available to the public, and his access to the 26 State’s registry of motor vehicles database made these conspiracies severely effective.
27 FAVC ¶ 70-73 “[W]hen private individuals or groups are endowed by the State with 28

1 powers or functions governmental in nature, they become agencies or instrumentalities 2 of the State and subject to its constitutional limitations.” Evans v. Newton, 382 U.S. 296, 3 299 (1966) “[T]he government's active involvement with the media's news gathering 4 activities, and the mutually-derived benefits, is more than enough to make the media 5 government actors.” Berger v. Hanlon, 129 F.3d 505, 515 (9th Cir. 1997)

6 Kearney has a symbiotic relationship in that he uses the weaponized assets to 7 influence congress to give police financial benefits. FAVC ¶ 74-76 “[S]ubstantial 8 coordination and significant financial integration between the private party and 9 government are hallmarks of a symbiotic relationship.” Pasadena Republican Club v. W.
10 Justice Ctr., 985 F.3d 1161, 1168 (9th Cir. 2021)

11 Kearney’s state provided attorneys’ login to instantly search criminal and family court 12 computers shows that the State has brazenly empowered Kearney with state resources.
13 “[T]he rationing of otherwise freely accessible recreational facilities creates a stronger 14 case for state action than if the facilities are simply available to all comers without 15 condition or reservation.” Gilmore v. City of Montgomery, 417 U.S. 556, 574, 94 S.Ct.
16 2416, 2426, 41 L.Ed.2d 304 (1974)

17 Additionally, several police departments following WDM/Kearney on Twitter, FAVC 18 ¶ 75 shows that the State “has provided such significant encouragement, either overt or 19 covert, that the choice must in law be deemed to be that of the State.” Blum v. Yaretsky, 20 457 U.S. 991, 1004 (1982)

21 Judicial coconspirators and State inaction

22 The unintelligible approval of Kearney’s obvious and spelled out violations of the 23 state’s witness intimidation laws in four district court cases, FAVC ¶ 82-91, FAVC ¶ 98-24 101, and the fact that they denied an explanatory memorandum without reason, is more 25 than enough to infer a state action conspiracy for the purposes of section 1983. “[P]rivate 26 parties who corruptly conspire with a judge in conjunction with the judge's performance 27 of an official judicial act are acting under color of state law for the purpose of § 1983, 28

1 even if the judge himself is immune from civil liability.” Kimes v. Stone, 84 F.3d 1121, 2 1126 (9th Cir. 1996) see also Dennis v. Sparks, 449 U.S. 24, 29 (1980) “Evidence that 3 police failed to exercise independent judgment will support an inference of conspiracy 4 with a private party.” Gilbrook v. City of Westminster, 177 F.3d 839, 857 (9th Cir. 1999) 5 citation omitted. “[I]ntent is not at issue where intimidation or coercion is obvious” Park
6 v. Thompson, 851 F.3d 910, 920 (9th Cir. 2017)

7 After an ex parte conversation with Kearney, Judge Michael Callan unintelligibly 8 cancelled the witness subpoena that it had issued for Kearney, (FAVC ¶ 92-94) and then 9 rescheduled the hearing addressing Kearney’s misconduct (including the June 18th 10 threats) for two months later, to the same day he scheduled a final pre-trial conference, 11 effectively making it impossible to appeal his approval of Kearney’s flagrant misconduct 12 before the FPT conference. “The Supreme Court has established that the government 13 violates due process when its conduct ‘effectively dr[ives a] witness off the stand.’” Park 14 v. Thompson, 851 F.3d 910, 919 (9th Cir. 2017) citing Webb v. Texas, 409 U.S. 95, 98, 15 93 S.Ct. 351, 34 L.Ed.2d 330 (1972)

16 Kearney frequently has ex parte conversations with judges shortly before they make 17 unintelligible decisions. (FAVC ¶ 87-89, ¶ 93-97, ¶ 179, ¶ 187) Where a Defendant 18 “enters into an extra-judicial agreement with a judge, the fraudulent court proceedings 19 circumvent the due course of justice, and are the basis for a claim of a procedural due 20 process violation” Elwood v. Drescher, 90 F. App’x 501, 504 (9th Cir. 2004)

21 “Immunity granted to a class, however limited, having the effect to deprive another 22 class, however limited, of a personal or property right, is just as clearly a denial of equal 23 protection of the laws to the latter class as if the immunity were in favor of, or the 24 deprivation of right permitted worked against, a larger class.” Universal Adjustment
25 Corp. v. Midland Bank, Ltd., 281 Mass. 303, 306 (1933)

26 In many cases there is "no quarrel with the state laws on the books, instead, the 27 problem is the way those laws are or are not implemented by state officials.” Zinermon 28

1 v. Burch, 494 U.S. 113, 124-25 (1990) “Denying includes inaction as well as action. And 2 denying the equal protection of the laws includes the omission to protect, as well as the 3 omission to pass laws for protection. These views are fully consonant with this Court’s 4 recognition that state conduct which might be described as ‘inaction’ can nevertheless 5 constitute responsible ‘state action’ within the meaning of the Fourteenth Amendment.”
6 Bell v. Maryland, 378 U.S. 226, 309-11 (1964)

7 I have gone to all the appropriate police departments more than once to address 8 witness intimidation from Kearney, (FAVC ¶ 73) and the only helpful answer I ever got 9 was to file criminal complaints. “[T]here is a constitutional right to have police services 10 administered in a nondiscriminatory manner a right that is violated when a state actor 11 denies such protection to disfavored persons.” Elliot-Park v. Manglona, 592 F.3d 1003, 12 1007 (9th Cir. 2010)

13 Bivens Federal Action

14 The Massachusetts Federal District court waited until it dismissed the complaint to 15 deny preliminary injunctions without any reason, that I had claimed were necessary in 16 order to fully present my claims and fairly collect evidence. (FAVC ¶ 103-04) The court 17 sua sponte ignored half my state action facts and decided, FAVC ¶ 106) “Plaintiff’s claim 18 for a conspiracy in violation of 42 U.S.C. § 1985 fails because he does not allege any 19 facts supporting an agreement by the parties to deprive him of equal protection of the law 20 based on his membership in a protected class.” Waters v. Facebook, Inc., No. CV 20-21 30168-MGM, 2021 WL 3400607, at *2 (D. Mass. May 11, 2021) However. “[t]here is 22 no such requirement in an action alleging the denial of access to federal court under the 23 first clause of section 1985(2).” Portman v. County of Santa Clara, 995 F.2d 898, 909 24 (9th Cir. 1993) quoting Kush v. Rutledge, 460 U.S. 719, 726, 103 S.Ct. 1483, 1487, 75
25 L.Ed.2d 413 (1983)

26 In my Rule 59e motion I cited Kush and the ignored state action facts, but the court 27 sua sponte decided that I was not allowed to raise arguments in response to the court’s 28

1 sua sponte decision, even though I had no prior notice of the courts intent to dismiss or 2 the court’s obviously wrong reasoning. FAVC ¶ 108

3 “[T]he standards utilized to find federal action . . . are identical to those employed to 4 detect state action” Sutton v. Providence St. Joseph Medical Center, 192 F.3d 826, 835 5 (9th Cir. 1999) “State courts that aid private parties to perform [constitutional violations] 6 implicate the State in conduct proscribed by the Fourteenth Amendment.” Evans v.
7 Newton, 382 U.S. 296, 302 (1966) The “aberrant procedure surrounding” Mastroni’s sua 8 sponte decisions’ “would support a justifiable inference of conspiracy.” United 9 Steelworkers of Am. v. Phelps Dodge, 865 F.2d 1539, 1547 (9th Cir. 1989) I presented 10 specific facts that the “stated reasons for the termination were pretextual.” Gilbrook v.
11 City of Westminster, 177 F.3d 839, 857 n.9 (9th Cir. 1999)

12 42 USC 1983 damages

13 Damages from due process violations are easily proven in this case, “we foresee no 14 particular difficulty in producing evidence that mental and emotional distress actually 15 was caused by the denial of procedural due process itself. Distress is a personal injury 16 familiar to the law, customarily proved by showing the nature and circumstances of the 17 wrong and its effect on the plaintiff... denial of procedural due process itself is 18 compensable under § 1983...” Carey v. Piphus, 435 U.S. 247, 263-64 (1978) In this case 19 I have a lot of damages, but until a court follows the law, it will be too dangerous to list 20 them. At minimum I was diagnosed with adjustment disorder. FAVC ¶ 36 “[T]he 21 decision, if made by a professional, is presumptively valid.” Youngberg v. Romeo, 457
22 U.S. 307, 323 (1982)

23 Regardless, “[n]ominal damages must be awarded if a constitutional violation is 24 established even if no actual injury is incurred or can be proven. A jury that believed [the 25 Plaintiff] might also award him punitive damages.” Rodney Cable v. City of Phx., No.
26 14-15037, 4 (9th Cir. 2016) citation omitted. see Smith v. Wade, 461 U.S. 30, 55 n.21 27 (1983) (“punitive damages may be the only significant remedy available in some § 1983 28

1 actions where constitutional rights are maliciously violated but the victim cannot prove 2 compensable injury")

3 "A jury may be permitted to assess punitive damages in a § 1983 action when the 4 defendant's conduct involves reckless or callous indifference to the plaintiff's federally 5 protected rights, as well as when it is motivated by evil motive or intent." Smith v. Wade, 6 461 U.S. 30 (1983) ("If the plaintiff proves sufficiently serious misconduct on the 7 defendant's part, the question whether to award punitive damages is left to the jury, which 8 may or may not make such an award.") i.d., at 52

9 There is no issue preclusion

10 First off, these are all injuries that happened after 3:20-CV-30168 was dismissed.
11 FAVC ¶ 104 "A claim ordinarily accrues when a plaintiff has a complete and present 12 cause of action." Petrella v. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Inc., 572 U.S. 663, 670 (2014)

13 Second, the state action inquiry is to be done on a case-by-case basis. Supra pg. 17

14 Third, 3:20-CV-30168 did not give due process, and neither Kearney nor the court 15 argued any opposing arguments for why the ignored state action facts would not hold 16 weight. "Where no judicial resources have been spent on the resolution of a question, trial 17 courts must be eroding the principle of party presentation so basic to our system of 18 adjudication." Arizona v. California, 530 U.S. 392, 412-13 (2000)

19 Forth, Kearney was regularly threatening me and witnesses preventing me from 20 presenting an effective case. "It is the general rule that issue preclusion attaches only 21 when an issue of fact or law is actually litigated and determined by a valid and final 22 judgment, and the determination is essential to the judgment. In the case of a judgment 23 entered by confession, consent, or default, none of the issues is actually litigated.
24 Therefore, the rule of this Section describing issue preclusion's domain does not apply 25 with respect to any issue in a subsequent action." I.d., at 14 citation omitted.

26
27 V. The balance of equities

1 Aidan Kearney does not have a First Amendment right to intimidate witnesses and 2 deny my right to a fair trial. “The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall 3 not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.” Ninth Amendment

4 “Reasonable time, place, and manner regulations are permissible, and a content-based 5 prohibition must be narrowly drawn to effectuate a compelling state interest.” Perry Educ.
6 Ass'n v. Perry Local Educators' Ass'n, 460 U.S. 37, 38 (1983)

7 VI. The public's interest.

8 Unchecked “instances of witness intimidation create the perception that the law 9 cannot protect its citizens and thereby undermines public confidence in the police and 10 government. If individuals believe that they cannot be adequately protected, they are less 11 likely to cooperate with the police,” (and Plaintiff’s) “which in turn impedes the ability 12 of the police to gather evidence in attempt to stop criminal behavior. Thus, the cycle is 13 vicious and invidious... Each instance of witness intimidation by gang violence or threat 14 of violence reinforces the perception that cooperation with the criminal justice system is 15 dangerous.”²

16 “The public welfare demands that the agencies of public justice be not so impotent 17 that they must always be mute and helpless victims of deception and fraud.” Hazel-Atlas 18 Co. v. Hartford Co., 322 U.S. 238, 246 (1944)

19 A PEW research study “The State of Online Harassment” (January 2021) found that 20 41% of Americans have experienced online harassment, and 25% had experienced the 21 more extreme types of harassment “which encompasses physical threats, stalking, sexual 22 harassment and sustained harassment.” This number was up from 15% in 2014, and 18% 23 in 2017.

² ARTICLE: Balancing the Anonymity of Threatened Witnesses Versus a Defendant's Right
28 of Confrontation: The Waiver Doctrine After Alvarado, 39 San Diego L. Rev. 1165, 1195-6

1 If this court denies the requested relief, Kearney will feel empowered to keep 2 attacking children, to send more threats like he did on June 18th, and to impersonate more 3 litigants and try to frame them for crimes like he did to me on November 19th.

4 The Declaration of Independence is clear that when a Government oppresses the 5 public with “a long train of abuses and usurpations”, denying “Life, Liberty and the 6 pursuit of Happiness” “it is the[people’s] right, it is their duty, to throw off such 7 Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.”

8 If this court does not take its constitutional duty seriously, I will take my duty 9 seriously. (Affidavit at 7) This court's unintelligible refusal to grant relief, would further 10 empower me with a Mass. Const. pt. 1 art. I³ Right, and affirmative defense against any 11 civil or criminal proceedings that are in response to measures that were necessary to 12 resecure my safety prosperity and happiness. “The U.S. Constitution was written against 13 a background of existing state constitutions, charters, and laws; indeed, it borrowed 14 generously from those constitutions. The U.S. Constitution did not displace such laws, 15 U.S. Const. amend. X, except where it did so expressly” Young v. Hawaii, 992 F.3d 765, 16 815 (9th Cir. 2021)

17 I am a religious man who believes the Lord would not have given me access to 18 unlimited power (Affidavit at 6) before forcing me to fight sadistic corruption on accident.
